

ble to go through the ponderous volumes comprised in the report of the Superintendent.

ent of the census, and has gleaned from them some very curious and interesting facts. For instance, the population of the thirty-seven United States is reported by the census of 1870 as 38,115,641, made up of 33,203,128 whites, 4,835,106 negroes, 56,179 Chinese, and 21,228 civilized Indians. According to nativity this population is made up as follows:

	Native.	Foreign born.
Whites.....	27,796,711	5,407,111
Negroes.....	4,235,612	9,094

Indians.....	20,476	758
Totals.....	56,642,612	5,473,029
	5,473,029
Aggregate.....	58,115,641

The native Chineses are the feeble progeny of the Asiatic colonies on the Pacific coast, with an occasional young Celestial from the coolie laborers in Louisiana and Texas. The few foreign-born Indians are from Mexico and Canada, though here and there one appears from South America or the Sandwich Islands, and one copper-colored immigrant is set down as from Baden! Of the 9,494 foreign-born negroes 3,376 come from Canada, the descendants, no droids, of our old savage states, and a large number of African, Celtic peoples, and our republicans are being shipped in by the ton under, in big yachts. The rest come from every part of the globe. Of the sixty countries taken note of in the census we have negro immigrants from fifty-one. Hardly a country in Europe but contributes to our black population, though of course in an infinitesimal degree. Even such improbable sources as Norway, Poland, and Russia furnish their quota, Ireland and Greece being almost the only exceptions to the general rule. China and Japan likewise contribute, as also the laces of the sea as represented by Australia.

For all official purposes, however, the Indian and the Negro may be regarded as a habilitant. The Chinese a foreign-born inhabitant. The exceptions are so slight as to be merely curious, and it is only when we come to the nationality of the whites of the United States that any serious inspection is possible. The 5,971,111 foreign-born whites are thus made up:

Irish.....	1,858,726
English.....	1,758,730
Scottish.....	576,243
British North Americans.....	451,859
Norwegians.....	112,111
Danes.....	54,643
Swedes.....	25,465
Finnish.....	23,121

French.....	314,640
Irish.....	214,940
Welsh.....	71,904
All others.....	222,601
Total.....	5,566,411

Having thus resolved our population into its component parts, we are ready for some curious deductions. The admission of citizens of the United States—namely, by birth, by naturalization, and by treaty—into the empire, the thirty-seven States—number 8—254,296, and of these but 1,452,722 are of foreign birth. The entire voting body is thus divided:

Natives.....
Whites.....	3,759,807
Negroes.....	1,192,694
Foreign-born.....	1,452,722
Total.....	5,852,623

In view of such a showing as that the "foreign vote" is but one-fourth the native white vote and less than one-fifth of the entire native vote, the absurdity of the usual campaign jermard over the influence of foreigners upon our elections can be seen. Moreover, fractional as the foreign vote is, it loses most if not all its power by the manner in which it is cast. The ratio is about one foreign-born voter in each 3.6 of that population, which gives us about 510,757 Irish and 462,805 German voters. As a rule these votes are cast in such diametrically opposite directions as to neutralize one another. The Scandinavian, Canadian, Welsh, and other foreign votes are cast

Whites . . . 2,798,671 44,503-1 in 627 15,986-1 in 740
Negroes . . . 5,647,111 22,600-1 in 238 8,643-1 in 625
Foreign-born . . . 1,000,000 total, 8,250,000.

Close to the elective franchise lies the question of character. The census reports the number of persons, respectively, in receipt of poor support and those in prison on the 1st of June, 1870, and avers the following to be the respective figures for the States: * These figures make the following showing:

Paupers, Criminals.

Native . . . 27,798,671 44,503-1 in 627 15,986-1 in 740
Foreign-born . . . 5,647,111 22,600-1 in 238 8,643-1 in 625
Negroes . . . 1,000,000 total, 8,250,000.

Or while the foreign-born show the greatest proportion of paupers, the negroes have the greatest proportion of criminals, or are the criminal class as the foreign-born are the pauper class, par excellence, of the United States. In the old slave States the figures of pauperism and crime make this exhibit:

Paupers, Paupers, Criminals.

Whites . . . 9,476,077 12,230-1 in 725 6,656-1 in 1,885
Negroes . . . 4,495,570 6,561-1 in 656 6,375-1 in 716

It will be remarked that both whites and blacks in these States make a better showing as it respects both pauperism and crime than is disclosed in the United States at large. A comparison of the negro and white districts of the nation in the old slave and free States is interesting in the figures standing thus: *

States, Paupers, Criminals.

Old slave . . . 4,495,478 6,561-1 in 656 6,375-1 in 716
Free States . . . 9,476,077 12,230-1 in 725 6,656-1 in 1,885

All philanthropy and politics to the contrary notwithstanding, these figures insist that public schools, churches, equality, and other favoring circumstances have had no effect on the Southern Negro. He has shown himself reticent, rather, of "progress," and has mounted himself in 1870 as a far bigger beggar and rogue than his counterpart of the Southern cotton field and rice plantation.

Some other curious revelations of the census may be very profitably recapitulated here. New England is nothing if not moral, and the South nothing if not such a land as Washington Irving painted it—a roystering country, given over to cock-fighting, julefs, horse-racing, and other profane sports. But let the census speak. Taking the six New England States on the one hand and the six South and Virginia States, counting Virginia and the Virginias as one, for example, we have this statement of the way they "pan out" in churches:

	White population.	Churches.	Members.
Maine.....	618,367	1,104	27,738
Vermont.....	329,613	744	29,616
New Hampshire.....	408,468	1,024	62,618
Massachusetts.....	1,443,156	1,764	882,683
Rhode Island.....	212,219	288	125,183
Connecticut.....	618,367	1,104	27,738
Total.....	3,485,446	5,421	2,903,677
Delaware.....	102,224	267	87,569
Virginia.....	1,018,379	1,889	627,770
West Virginia.....	173,089	258	76,512
North Carolina.....	424,338	1,024	200,000
South Carolina.....	280,067	719	147,000
Georgia.....	1,018,379	2,497	718,310
Florida.....	280,067	1,298	401,000
Total.....	4,860,993	11,976	3,620,924

With the same population the 'cock-fighting Southerners' "see" pious and well-to-do New England's 5,421 churches and go 6,146 better. A further nut for our "godly brethren of the East is as to the way their paupers and criminals compare with those

It is therefore ordered that the order of removal be affirmed. In the Union and American, a newspaper published at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 11th day of May 1973, there appeared a notice of the said defendants to appear before County Court of Perry county, Tenn., on the 15th day of May 1973, to be heard, and either to answer or demur to complainant's petition. None of the said defendants appeared, and the court is hearing ex parte to them.
